

A photograph of several rows of empty, light-colored metal supermarket shelves. Two large white signs with the word 'SALE!' in bold black letters are placed on the shelves. Various price tags are visible on the shelves, including one that says 'Half Price' and another that says 'CAREX ADV. PRHT NABING... SATURDAY 21st MAR... SORRY, OUT OF STOCK'.

SALE!

SALE!

What can I give them?

Shouldn't the question be
"What can I give Him?"

See www.christmasgiving.net
for some thoughts and suggestions.

